FLYING Ø58, PENDANT

FLYING is a family of sculptural pendant lamps with a soft organic shape. When suspended, they appear to float beautifully in the air. FLYING lamps are designed, made and distributed with sustainability in mind. The lampshade is created via a 3D knitting process directly from yarn to the final product, so no material is wasted. The LED light source is built into the top of the lamp so the light is softly diffused through the knitted bottom part of the lamp. FLYING lamps are also flat-packed in cardboard, making them compact and therefore more sustainable in terms of transport and distribution.
